Dear Sir/Madam,

CORPORATE PRIVACY POLICY & DATA PROTECTION CHARTER

STATUTORY DECREE & LEGAL FRAMEWORK

This Privacy Policy constitutes an electronic record in the form of an electronic contract established under the Information Technology Act, 2000 and the rules framed thereunder, as amended from time to time. This instrument does not require any physical, electronic, or digital signature and is legally binding between you (the "User") and the Company. The terms contained herein take effect immediately upon your acceptance (whether directly, indirectly, or executionally in electronic format) and explicitly govern the processing of data arising from your usage of this Website.

This regulatory charter is compiled and published in strict compliance with the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, 2011, under Section 43A and Section 72A of the Information Technology Act, 2000. It seamlessly integrates compliance frameworks mandated under the Consumer Protection Act, 2019, the Consumer Protection (E-Commerce) Rules, 2020, and the Consumer Protection (Direct Selling) Rules, 2021 regarding corporate transparency, direct-seller data coordination, and automated user rights.

1. DATA PRIVACY COMMITMENT & TRANSPARENCY AWARENESS

_____ (company name), along with its corporate affiliates and operational subsidiaries, is deeply committed to protecting individual data privacy. We have purposefully configured our platform so that you can navigate the web interface without identifying yourself or inadvertently revealing personal records. Once you choose to volunteer personally identifiable information (any structured data by which you can be uniquely recognized), you are explicitly assured that it will be restricted to reinforcing and managing your direct commercial and customer relationship with _____ (company name)

This dynamic privacy statement acts as an official advisory notice to make you aware of our digital security practices and the robust choices you can execute regarding the manner in which your datasets are extracted and processed. To ensure optimal accessibility, this policy is permanently hyperlinked at the base footer of every web page across the entire domain mapping.

2. CATEGORIES OF DATASETS COLLECTED

2.1. Automated Server-Level Technical Logs

Upon establishing an active handshake with our digital web servers, the technical hosting system automatically detects your source domain name mapping, but does not extract your individual email address unless technically prompted. We securely compile the domain log from which you connect, aggregated analytics concerning the specific internal sub-pages you access or visit, user-specific path tracking, and any data volunteered by you via structured feedback forms, survey instruments, or official site registration profiles.

2.2. Tracking Technologies & Advanced Cookie Policy

The _____ (company name) digital architecture utilizes standard persistent and session 'Cookies' (alphanumeric text identifiers stored on your hardware storage drives by our remote page server) to enable seamless sign-ins, manage secure sessions, and customize your user interface. Cookies cannot introduce malicious scripts to your computer systems, contain no unencrypted personally identifiable information, and operate as safe system markers.

The integration of these storage tokens allows us to deliver optimized performance, enabling the platform to:

- Reliably estimate our systemic audience traffic volume and macroscopic usage patterns;
- Securely cache your operational preferences to dynamically customize the interface to your professional profile;
- Accelerate search index query executions and internal data routing speeds; and

The scope of collection encompasses your legal full name, assigned unique Direct Seller Identification Number (ID)/customer no., contact specifications, and verifiable corporate billing profiles. All credit card data, secure token codes, and instant transaction parameters are processed natively through encrypted payment bridges and are never disclosed, exposed, or shared under any circumstances.

We provide regular mechanisms for users to signify that they do not wish to receive unsolicited direct marketing materials, and we fulfill all such suppression requests. Your permission is secured first should any data transmission be required toward un-associated third parties.

5. USER ACCESS RIGHTS, STORAGE PROTECTION, & SECURITY MATRICES

To protect your underlying privacy, the Company will initiate multi-factor verification checks to confirm your identity before granting database access or unlocking administrative updates.

5.2. Technical and Managerial Security Practices

To counter unauthorized penetration, maintain system integrity, and guarantee lawful usage, _____(company name) has deployed robust physical, electronic, and managerial protocols to safeguard data assets. We run updated encryption standards during the collection and digital transfer of sensitive financial accounts. However, users acknowledge that no internet-facing architecture is entirely immune to sophisticated cyber exploits. Consequently, while the Company satisfies all reasonable security criteria under Section 43A of the IT Act, 2000, it cannot provide an absolute, unbreakable warranty of total security. The Company shall not be held liable for external data breaches arising from un-preventable infrastructure compromises beyond its direct managerial control.

5.3. Data Integrity & Retention Limits
